COURSE SYLLABUS

Course Title: United States History II

Course #: US History II 202

Course Description:

This course explores the major themes in the political, social, technological, economic and cultural development of the United States from the era just after the American Civil War, Reconstruction, to the removal of U.S. armed forces from Vietnam as the United States would find itself becoming not only the main influence in the western hemisphere, but one of the two major superpowers through the Cold War.

Objectives:

The purpose of this course is to give the student a comprehensive understanding of the major topics and significant issues, events, and people of United States from circa 1865 and the Reconstruction period to approximately mid 20th century. Using the textbook, primary documents, literature, paintings, films, and music, we will explore, analyze, discuss and write about the, political, economic, social, and cultural transformations that occurred in the United States during that period. The goal will be the development of your own knowledge and interpretation of their scope and significance. It is important that students learn to think, assess, question, discuss and write like a historian.

Sexual assault and intimate partner violence is an affront to our national conscience, and one we cannot ignore. It is our hope that no one within our campus community will become a victim of these crimes. However, if it occurs, NCCC has created the SART Team - Sexual Assault and Intimate Partner Violence Resource Team - to meet the victim's needs.

SART is a campus and community based team that is fully trained to provide trauma-informed compassionate service and referrals for comprehensive care. The team works in partnership with The Susan B. Anthony Project to extend services 24 hours a day, 7 days a week throughout the year.
