

Northwestern CT Community College
Course Syllabus

Course Title: Advanced Creative Writing

Course #: ENG 284

Course Description: Three (3) credits. ENG 284 provides further opportunity for the composition of completed original works in fiction and poetry. Participants work from exercises and assignments in preparation for completed original stories, plays and poems. Assignments involve working in a variety of writing approaches, including dialogue, point of view, narration and description. The class is structured as a workshop; students share their work and critiques with the class.

Pre-requisite/Co-requisite: ENG 281 or consent of the instructor.

Goals:

- To deepen student appreciation and knowledge of various types of fiction, drama, and poetry.
- To encourage students to further develop their own abilities and skills in the genres of fiction, drama, and poetry.
- To provide students with direct experience in writing from their imagination, and the chance to pursue projects of their own choosing.
- To introduce students to the work of professional writers when possible in the form of visiting authors, who will read and present their work to the class for student discussion and inquiry and a glimpse “behind the scenes.”

Outcomes:

- The student will gain a deeper appreciation and knowledge of various types of fiction, drama, and poetry.
- The student will have further developed his or her own abilities and skills in the genre of fiction, drama, and poetry.
- The student will have gained direct experience in writing from his/her imagination, and the chance to pursue projects of his/her own choosing.
