NORTHWESTERN CONNECTICUT COMMUNITY COLLEGE (NCCC)

is a two-year, co-educational college, serving all of Litchfield County since 1965. NCCC is part of the Connecticut State Colleges and Universities system (CSCU) governed by the Board of Regents for Higher Education, which includes the community colleges, Charter Oak, and the four state universities: Western, Southern, Eastern, and Central Connecticut State University.

As the fourth oldest of the 12 community colleges, NCCC has a well-defined history of serving students by offering excellence in teaching and lifelong learning opportunities. High quality student services, state-of-the-art technology, and premier cultural events for both students and the community are signature qualities of NCCC that helped rank them as one of the top ten community colleges in the United States two years in a row by wallethub.com.

The campus is comprised of 11 buildings in the town of Winsted, Connecticut. Many of the buildings flank the east side of the town green and include the historic Founders Hall. The impressive Arts and Science Building and Greenwoods Hall anchor the north end of campus, while the Learning Resource Center, with its grand rotunda and the newly constructed Joyner Health Science Center anchor the south end and welcome visitors traveling routes 8 and 44 to both the town and the college.

ACADEMIC PROGRAMS

NCCC currently offers 37 A.S. or A.A. degree programs and 16 certificate programs, which include Allied Health, Behavioral and Social Sciences, Business, Fine Arts, Computer Technology, General Studies, Liberal Arts, and Environmental Sciences. Seventeen of the degrees offered at NCCC are pathway programs designed for seamless transfer to one of the four state universities.

STUDENT OUTCOMES

Recent graduate survey data indicate that 75% of graduates report full or part-time employment within six months following graduation; more than 50% of those work in a field related to their NCCC major. More than 90% of graduates reported their studies prepared them well for future college coursework; while more than 50% responded that NCCC helped them get a new job. The majority who reported they were not working did so by choice, typically to continue their education full-time.

AFFORDABILITY

Many college students depend on financial aid to pay tuition, fees, and other academic costs. More than half (54%) of NCCC degree seeking students received some form of aid, including approximately $1.4 million in Pell grants.

MEDIAN EARNINGS OF FULL-TIME EMPLOYEES BY EDUCATIONAL ATTAINMENT

Less than High School Diploma	Associate Degree
$26,200	$42,600
High School Diploma	Bachelor's Degree
$36,000	$60,100

TEACHING, LEARNING & SCHOLARSHIP

Teaching and lifelong learning are at the heart of NCCC's mission. The College prides itself on its deeply committed faculty and staff.

With a 13:1 student-to-faculty ratio and a shift in focus to student centered learning, NCCC's faculty promote continued active learning and engagement among peers. Student centered learning enables critical thinking and provides a means for students to develop knowledge by building upon and challenging prior learning. With instructors acting as facilitators and contributors of knowledge, the responsibility of learning returns to the students; students are then able to discover their strengths and take part in directing their own knowledge gain.

COMMUNITY

"Northwestern Connecticut Community College gave me the confidence and connections I needed to follow a career path in the art world. Now, I can honestly say I love my job."

Karl Goulet
Gallery Manager & Assistance Curator
Five Points Gallery, Torrington and NCCC 2011 Fine Arts Graduate

WORLD

"It was great – we were all sharing our experience and working together to motivate people to change."

Johanna Idrovo Sarmiento
2018 NCCC attendee at the Oxford Consortium for Human Rights Student Conference, Oxford, England

"We are not traditional students on a traditional timeline with traditional lives."

Jeremy Marchand
